COAL MINERS ON "HOLIDAY"

Pittsburgh, June 11 (P)—A one-week mining holiday beginning Monday sent some of the nation's 450,000 coal miners into the pits today at time-and-a-half pay as producers ordered a sixth day of production.

Major anthracite producers in eastern Pennsylvania ordered the work day as retail coal dealers reported a sharp rise in orders.

But for most miners, who didn't work Saturday or Sunday, idleness began today.

President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers ordered a cessation of mining for one week starting Monday to stabilize the industry.

If the holiday lasts but one week, the miners will have five more working days before their 10-day paid vacation begins under the current contract. They are paid $100 each for that vacation.

The Lewis order affected others besides miners: Some 30,000 eastern railroad workers are scheduled to be laid off. However, the Pennsylvania railroad, which leads with 15,000 planned layoffs, and the Reading road said a drop in business had a hand in furloughing personnel.

Meanwhile contract negotiations on two fronts are set for next week.

Meanwhile, Tucker in a statement issued here, said he will ask the Senate to investigate, adding, "I don't intend to take it lying down."

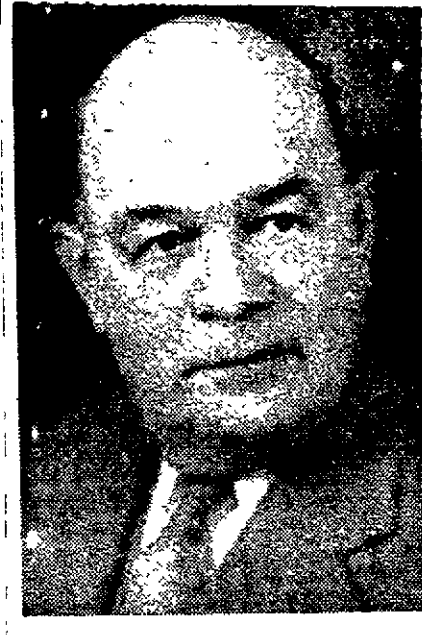

At his boyhood home in Ypsilanti, Mich., he said his automobile firm was "not bankrupt by any stretch of the imagination." He said the action against him and his associates was started by "those who would suffer most from the competi-

Couple Leaves S. America For Adams County

Orchids, those high-priced exotic blooms so much in demand for weddings and other functions in this country, grow wild in the yard of William L. and Peggy Miles of Benanca, Bermeja, Colombia, South America, but good Pennsylvania apples cost 40 cents each there.

So Mr. and Mrs. Miles, having tasted the unsurpassed fruit of Adams county orchards and having heard so much about the Adams county fruit farms, decided to forsake South America and its wild orchards for a place where these famous apples originate. They were aided in their decision by a Strout Realty Agency catalogue describing the farms in this section.

The couple boarded a plane and in 14 hours they were in New York. From that place it was an easy trip here, and what they saw induced them to buy the 195-acre fruit farm of Fred T. Naugle, together with equipment and crops, in Hamilton township. Possession is to be given July 12. The sale was made through C. A. Heiges, associate of the Strout company.

Mr. Miles for the past 20 years has been district industrial relations superintendent for the Tropical Oil company of South America.

NEED CHERRY CROP PICKERS

With a cherry crop this year which may run three times the size of last year's harvest in prospect beginning early in July, the Pennsylvania State Employment Service, 20 Baltimore street today issued an appeal for pickers.

Edgar A. Crouse, manager of the employment service here, said today that beginning about July 5, hundreds of pickers would be needed. He said last year approximately 3,000 persons aided in the cherry harvest, and the demand for pickers, barring last minute damage to the crop, would be far in excess of that figure this July.

School children from ten years of age up, and men and women are needed. They are asked to register immediately at the employment service, and will be notified later when and where to report. Transportation will be provided to the orchards. Crouse said. The price to be paid cherry pickers this year has not yet been fixed, he said.

Here And There News Collected At Random

We feel privileged to join with scores of other friends and say "Happy Birthday" to a kindly, little lady, Mrs. Anne Elizabeth Stanley, Carlisle street, who on Sunday will observe her 98th birthday anniversary.

A resident of Gettysburg for more than 50 years, Mrs. Stanley has endeared herself to a wide host of friends. Her pleasing and pleasant manners, warm personality and intense interest in community and college affairs has attracted many life-long acquaintances.

She has grown old gracefully and as she approaches the century mark she retains the vigor and interest of a woman much younger. May her birthday anniversary be happy and pleasant and may she remain with us for many, many more years. Her kind of soul is good for any community.

Over-eating is responsible for hundreds of thousands of deaths each year, according to the June issue of Science Illustrated magazine. Obesity helps cause arteriosclerosis, gout, pulmonary or kidney disease, gall-bladder ailment, chronic bronchitis, heart failures and other conditions considered as degenerative ailments.

Men who are 15% to 25% overweight have a death rate 44% higher than men of normal weight. Of ten stout men at the age of 30, only 6 will survive to 60; 3 to 70; and perhaps one to 80. But of 10 lean men 8 will reach 60, and five will reach 70, according to the article.

Author Thomas C. Desmond, New York state senator, says that there is only one way to get fat, and that is by over-eating. He discounts as a snug alibi so-called "gladular conditions." Not even heredity can be blamed for obesity. Rather than inheriting your mother's figure, he maintains that you have inherited the family cook book.

COAL MINERS ON "HOLIDAY"

Pittsburgh, June 11 (AP)—A one-week mining holiday beginning Monday sent some of the nation's 450,000 coal miners into the pits today at time-and-a-half pay as producers ordered a sixth day of production.

Major anthracite producers in eastern Pennsylvania ordered the work day as retail coal dealers reported a sharp rise in orders.

But for most miners, who didn't work Saturday or Sunday, idleness began today.

President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers ordered a cessation of mining for one week starting Monday to stabilize the industry. If the holiday lasts but one week, the miners will have five more working days before their 10-day paid vacation begins under the current contract. They are paid $100 each for that vacation.

The Lewis order affected others besides miners: Some 30,000 eastern railroad workers are scheduled to be laid off. However, the Pennsylvania railroad, which leads with 15,000 planned layoffs, and the Reading road said a drop in business had a hand in furloughing personnel.

Meanwhile contract negotiations on two fronts are set for next week.

TRIAL OF TUCKER AND SEVEN OF HIS AIDES MAY BE DELAYED YEAR

Chicago, June 11 (AP)—A crowded court docket may delay for a year the trial of Preston T. Tucker and seven of his business associates on federal charges in connection with the promotion of a rear-engine automobile.

A federal grand jury in a 31-count indictment returned yesterday charged each with 25 counts of mail fraud violations, five counts of violating regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission, and one of conspiracy.

Meanwhile, Tucker in a statement issued here, said he will ask the Senate to investigate, adding, "I don't intend to take it lying down."

At his boyhood home in Ypsilanti, Mich., he said his automobile firm was "not bankrupt by any stretch of the imagination." He said the action against him and his associates was started by "those who would suffer most from the competition."

In his statement, Tucker said the Tucker Corp. has assets of $14,000,000 and debts of $1,600,000. He added the firm had been a victim of "wrecking tactics of the SEC."

The grand jury said the Tucker Corp., organized in 1946, had a financial high of $28,000,000 which dropped to a cash balance of $130,000 on December 31, 1948. The jury said the defendants spent $28,000,000 in promotion and building of the car made "false and fraudulent statements" about the proposed new auto, and produced 25-hand-made cars, "none of which had the engineering features which Tucker contended would go into his automobile."

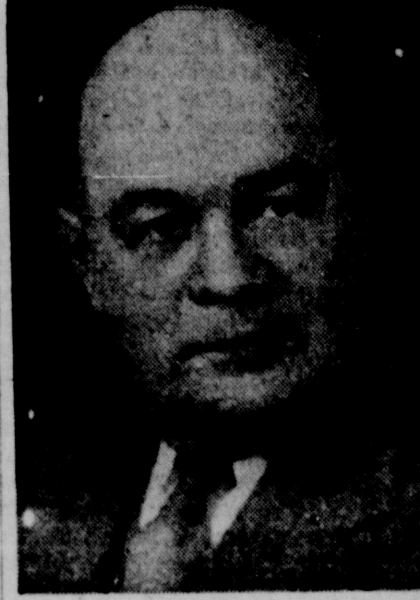

Tucker said 60 of the novel cars already have been produced on an assembly line and 100 more are almost completed.

EMMITSBURG WILL INSTALL MORE METERS

The mayor and commissioners of Emmitsburg met in regular session this week in the town office located in the Emmitsburg firemen's hall. Tax Collector Miss Louise Sebald reported the delinquent taxes for the years 1947 and 1948 as $1623 and $8251, respectively. The treasurer's report showed a balance of $12,393.

It was unanimously adopted that the corporation retire two more of the town's bonds, thus reducing the indebtedness to the remaining three or four bonds.

Attention was called to the condition of the alleys which were recently reconditioned and cleaned. These ways are public property, and as such, are not to be used for trash disposal. The Police Department has been notified to apprehend all violators of the ordinance prohibiting the placing of refuse on public property.

Streets Are Cleaned
The town clerk was instructed to send a letter to the State Roads Commission concerning the removal of the blinker on the square.

Board Chairman Hays announced that most of the streets and alleys and corporation property have received a "new look." Weeds have been trimmed and many of the streets, gutters and sewers have been cleaned. It is proposed to have maintenance men clean the square and streets and keep the weeds cut down during the summer months.

The first parking meter report showed a steady increase the first three weeks of operation. The first week showed $37; the second $45 and last week the total was up to $64. All the meters are not yet in operation but should be within the next week or two. Three more meters are to be placed in operation on the square.

The Corporation announced that

Couple Leaves S. America For Adams County

Orchids, those high-priced exotic blooms so much in demand for weddings and other functions in this country, grow wild in the yard of William L. and Peggy Miles of Benanca, Bermeja, Colombia, South America, but good Pennsylvania apples cost 40 cents each there.

So Mr. and Mrs. Miles, having tasted the unsurpassed fruit of Adams county orchards and having heard so much about the Adams county fruit farms, decided to forsake South America and its wild orchids for a place where these famous apples originate. They were in their decision by a Strout Realty Agency catalogue describing the farms in this section.

The couple boarded a plane and in 14 hours they were in New York. From that place it was an easy trip here, and what they saw induced them to buy the 195-acre fruit farm of Fred T. Naugle, together with equipment and crops, in Hamilton-ban township. Possession is to be given July 12. The sale was made through C. A. Heiges, associate of the Strout company.

Mr. Miles for the past 20 years has been district industrial relations superintendent for the Tropical Oil company of South America.

NEED CHERRY CROP PICKERS

With a cherry crop this year which may run three times the size of last year's harvest in prospect beginning early in July, the Pennsylvania State Employment Service, 20 Baltimore street today issued an appeal for pickers.

Edgar A. Crouse, manager of the employment service here, said today that beginning about July 5, hundreds of pickers would be needed. He said last year approximately 3,000 persons aided in the cherry harvest, and the demand for pickers, barring last minute damage to the crop, would be far in excess of that figure this July.

School children from ten years of age up, and men and women are needed. They are asked to register immediately at the employment service, and will be notified later when and where to report. Transportation will be provided to the orchards, Crouse said. The price to be paid cherry pickers this year has not yet been fixed, he said.

Here And There

We feel privileged to join with scores of other friends and say "Happy Birthday" to a kindly, little lady, Mrs. Anne Elizabeth Stanley, Carlisle street, who on Sunday will observe her 96th birthday anniversary.

A resident of Gettysburg for more than 50 years, Mrs. Stanley has endeared herself to a wide host of friends. Her pleasant and pleasant manners, warm personality and intense interest in community and college affairs has attracted many life-long acquaintances.

She has grown old gracefully and as she approaches the century mark she retains the vigor and interest of a woman much younger. May her birthday anniversary be happy and pleasant and may she remain with us for many, many more years. Her kind of soul is good for any community.

Over-eating is responsible for hundreds of thousands of deaths each year, according to the June issue of Science Illustrated magazine. Obesity helps cause arteriosclerosis, gout, pulmonary or kidney disease, gall-bladder ailment, chronic bronchitis, heart failures and other conditions considered as degenerative ailments.

Men who are 15% to 25% overweight have a death rate 44% higher than men of normal weight. Of ten stout men at the age of 30, only 6 will survive to 60; 3, to 70; and perhaps one to 80. But of 10 lean men 8 will reach 60, and five will reach 70, according to the article.

Author Thomas C. Desmond, New York state senator, says that there is only one way to get fat, and that is by overeating. He discounts as a smug alibi so-called "glandular conditions." Not even heredity can be blamed for obesity. Rather than inheriting your mother's figure, he maintains that you have inherited the family cook book.

More Smiles per Gallon

with Dynaflow Drive

There's the smile when you slip the selector lever into Driving notch—and realize that's all there is to do.

There's the smile when you swing smoothly up to cruising speed without halt or check or break of stride. There's the smile at traffic lights when you halt, wait, then move away with never a thought about shifting.

But the broadest grin of all comes at the end of a long day's drive and you find you've covered more miles more easily. Even your treadle-foot—so likely to become tired and cramped maintaining an even speed in direct-drive cars—appreciates the fluid ease of Dynaflow.

For Dynaflow Drive is not merely a new transmission. It's a new experience—a new luxury in driving. In ten minutes you are handling it like a veteran—in two days you wouldn't be without it.

Small wonder, then, that Dynaflow is the drive with which all new developments in transmissions are compared.

Not merely "something better," it is something entirely new, the first exciting chapter in a whole new book.

Go learn for yourself how abundantly rich in pleasure every gallon becomes when you have Dynaflow.

Your Buick dealer will be glad to demonstrate—glad to quote delivered prices—glad to talk terms of as fine a deal as you could want.

Lucy Tosses Away Script On Wedding

Colorado Springs, Colo., June 11.—Luscious Lucy threw away the script and got the man she had been eyeing all along.

Lucy—Lucille Archibueque of Los Angeles—was supposed to pick a husband from the bachelors at the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce convention. Then, the "People Are Funny" radio program was to finance the honeymoon.

Instead, the 23-year-old brunette accepted the telegraphed proposal of Jay Kinzer, from Wenatchee, Wash. Lucy left a note in her hotel room saying they were going to Nevada to be married. It was learned later that Lucy and Kinzer announced their engagement in Albuquerque, N. M., last February 2. She graduated from high school there in 1942.

Said Art Linkletter of the radio show: "We was robbed. No honeymoon for her."

Chapter 9

By the time Saturday arrived, Jeff had partaken of enough antidote to restore him to something near his normal outlook on life. He had firmly convinced himself that Connie was never intended for old and homely he. He had even succeeded in persuading himself to believe that a marriage between Connie and Glenn would be the best thing in the world that could happen.

Due to the excitement over the killing of Sam Tolson, he had neglected to purchase his supplies on his previous visit to Cougar, so he rode to town late Saturday afternoon.

As he entered the store a lively discussion which had been under way came to an abrupt halt. Jeff glanced about him. Besides Hank Wolfanger, the owner, he saw Chuck Gale and two of his men, a cowboy from the Crown, a miner named Benson, and Bud Snyder, the undertaker.

Jeff moved over to the counter. "I interrupt something?" he inquired. "Yeah, you did." It was Chuck Gale who answered, and his voice was flat and cold. He went on as Jeff turned slowly to face him. "Bud was wonderin'—and he got us to wonderin'—too—how come there were powder burns around the wound in Sam's head."

"That's easy. Glenn shot him. For no reason whatever—just like that." He fixed Gale with a cold stare. "That's what you're thinking, isn't it?"

"There could 'a' been a reason. Sam's gold. They took that shack apart without findin' it."

His two men had been standing near him; now one moved a few paces away and the other started edging in the opposite direction.

"Stand hitched, boys," came the drawing voice of the Crown puncher. "You make me nervous, movin' around thataway."

Gale's two men halted where they were.

"I'm waiting, Chuck," said Jeff quietly, "to hear you say that you were just—wonderin'."

"I told you that's all we were doin'—wonderin'," he said sulkily.

He turned to Hank and ordered the few things he wanted, then passed out of the store. The Crown puncher came trailing after him. Outside, Jeff said, "Much obliged, cowboy."

"Think nothin' of it," answered the other. "Keep your eye on that Chuck feller. He's bad medicine, and you made him eat cold crow in public. He ain't the bird to forget."

Jeff found Glenn in his kitchen eating supper, and drew a chair up to the table. Glenn was enthusiastic over his new office and declared that he had already made some profitable connections.

"That's fine," said Jeff heartily. "And here's something you'll like: Connie's invited us over to the Crown tomorrow with the guarantee that there won't be any free-for-all fights on the menu."

"She has? That's great! I'll ride

Final Planting Dates Arrive

With the calendar moving toward the halfway mark for 1949, final planting dates demand every gardener's serious attention. For the first three weeks of June six important vegetables fall into this "must" group—eggplant, peppers and tomatoes by use of well rooted plants, and winter squash, pumpkins, and rutabagas by seed.

Eggplant is a hot-weather vegetable, native of tropical regions. From 110 to 140 days are required for plants to reach maturity from date of planting seed. Therefore, seed must be sown under glass in April, with well rooted and thrifty plants set out no later than June 1 to 15. Use of fresh stable manures or heavy applications of commercial fertilizers should be avoided, although this vegetable should have the richest and most mellow loam of the garden. Black Beauty and Florida Highbush are among the more popular varieties.

Sweet peppers, along with any of the so-called "hot" varieties desired, should be set out within the next

Acquisition of a second cell in the firemen's hall for women and negro prisoners was made when the fire company granted permission of its use to the police department. Prisoners may be held in confinement indefinitely in the local jail, with or without an attendant.

hotbed or other shaded and medium cool place and ripening controlled until early winter.

Winter varieties of squash—hard-rind types—should be planted no later than June 15. Here is an excellent vegetable for all-winter storage, a fine source of relished food for home consumption and revenue from local marketing. The old reliable Hubbards should be included, along with the popular Acorn and the newer Buttercup, Butternut, and other types personally desired. The Acorn, sometimes called Table Queen, is perhaps superior to all other winter squashes for baking on the half-shell. Too, this squash, along with the Hubbards, are excellent keepers in storage. Beginners will be pleased with the Buttercup and Butternut.

Pumpkins have about the same planting limits as winter squash. Often they can be grown between the rows of late sweet corn or used in fences rows where the soil is usually rich and otherwise idle. All varieties store easily for all-winter use or sale in a well ventilated room where the temperature ranges in the upper 40s or lower 50s.

Rutabagas require slightly more time than turnips to mature. Therefore, seed should be sown not later than June 20, although a few days earlier is not unwise. Richer in vitamins than turnips, the yellow-flesh rutabagas make a fine addition to the family's fall and winter food supply. They are easy to store, preferably by burial in an outdoor pit.

SEDUMS FOR SUMMER HOT SPOTS

Hot, dry weather in July and August often reveals many barren places in the home grounds where a heat-resistant ornamental is needed. These hot spots may be an exposed terrace, a stone wall, a spot against a concrete walk, or an inhospitable space along the foundation. Where or what this sun-baked area may be, sedums should be considered as perhaps the best of all ornamental fillers. One of the most appropriate times to make appraisals of such needs is when the problem is visibly irritating to the grower—hot weather in late summer.

There are evergreen and herbaceous varieties of sedums. Many retain their beautifully refreshing foliage even through severe winters, while several die back in late fall and resume growth in the spring. Beginners with flowers often make the mistake of denying themselves intimate acquaintance with the sedums, sempervivums and similar hardy carpeting ornamentals by lumping them together in one group and mistakenly calling them "Everlastings."

Golden Moss is the common name of the sedum listed in catalogues as Acre. This was formerly seen in rural cemeteries. It is an excellent creeping variety and may be wisely and effectively used in numerous carpeting roles in the home grounds. Sarmientosum is another excellent creeping and carpeting form, popular for filling rock crevices and covering stone walls in exposed places.

Many experienced growers call the siebold sedum the finest of varieties. Its silvery leaves turn to a misty purple in late fall, with pink flowers appearing in October.

Stoloniferum is evergreen in habit, attaining a height of about 6 inches. Ternatum does well in shade and is used for carpeting areas where other ground covers fail.

Other varieties worth investigating are Album, Evers, Glaucum, Lydium, Rupestre, Spurium, Coeruleum, and at least a half dozen more.

How may a beginner start sedums?

The easiest way is to buy nursery plants or obtain divisions and set them out in late October or early spring. Where seed can be obtained, it may be sown in a sunny bed in late July or early August and plants moved to their permanent growing

The club members decided on the name "Firelight" for their club. They also decided what nature studies they would like to pursue, and discussed a money raising project. The next meeting will be held June 30 in the school auditorium.

The Vacation Bible school which was held this week in the Lutheran church at Bendersville closed Friday morning with a picnic at the firemen's grove. Teachers for the school were: Mrs. Evers Rhinehart, Miss Mae McCauslin, Mrs. Romayne Decker, Miss Joan Blocher, Miss Alvie Starner, Miss Jean Starner, and Mrs. George Schriver.

place in the fall. However, use of rooted plants usually proves the better method until experience warrants propagation by seed and cuttings.

Many varieties may be potted up in early fall and brought indoors for all-winter enjoyment. In fact, most sedums merit wider use as house plants.

Sorts which remain evergreen over winter should be surrounded with a collar of stone chips or coarse gravel to protect their foliage from decaying contact with the soil.

Almost all sedums may be multiplied by breaking off a branch and potting it in ordinary sandy soil and covering it with an upturned glass jar until it is well rooted. Many may be propagated from leaves planted in sand under glass.

Beauties from this genus of ornamentals are measured largely from having at least three or four different types and varieties. In the role of decorating barren walls and other sun-beaten spots, sedums soon win a permanent place of high estimate. Those who have learned their worth declare them the easiest of all hardy plants to grow.

FACTS ABOUT LATE CELERY

Celery serves as a significant example of timeliness as a factor in successful vegetable gardening. Plants for the late crop should be set out about July 1 in this latitude, or a week to 12 days earlier would not be amiss. However, the impressive fact about this advice is that seed to grow celery plants for July 1 transplanting must be sown no later than April 15. Therefore, recommendations here pertain solely to use of commercial plants or those whose growers had the foresight to start them last spring.

No other late vegetable is more nourishingly healthful for family consumption in late fall and winter than celery. It not only supplies needed roughage to diets usually deficient in bulk, but it furnishes valuable minerals and vitamins needed to prevent seasonal ills and to keep human bodies vigorous and properly balanced with nutrients which become scarce when late fall arrives. Celery is easy to store for all-winter consumption, thereby becoming one of the few "green" vegetables available after cold weather arrives.

Two cultural facts are stressed at this time—(1) The gardener should locate a source of plants and, if necessary, energy supplies for late June delivery; (2) Soil preparation is a matter of considerable importance in late celery growing, a task that should be completed at least two weeks before plants are set out.

The late celery crop may be blanched safely by banking the rows with soil, a practice that may cause decay during hot months with the early crop. But if banked gradually as growth develops, late celery is somewhat automatically stored in the blanching process, as it can be left banked when cold weather comes and used directly from the row over winter.

To prepare soil for celery transplanting, spade under a liberal application of well rotted manure at least two weeks before plants are set out, preferably in a strip 2 to 4 feet wide where the row is to be located. Of course, the site should be sunny and well drained, with a loam at least 10 to 12 inches deep and amply mellowed with organic matter. A complete fertilizer, something near a 6-8-6 strength, should be worked into the top soil a few days before transplanting time.

Buy vigorous plants to grow high quality celery. This is particularly true of the late crop when time must be carefully guarded. Such a plant has a mass of healthy roots, with many small lateral rootlets. Avoid plants with one long taproot and few feeder rootlets; they are slow in getting started and often never gain the necessary vigor to produce a good crop.

Set plants out on a cloudy day, if possible. Water them to settle soil firmly over the roots and press dry soil around them. If plants are large, pinch off some of the outermost leaves at transplanting time. To protect plants from wilting during the first few days, place evergreen branches over them to shade them from the sun and yet provide free circulation of air around them. This added precaution saves several days of interrupted growth and in extremely hot weather it may forestall severe injury.

Giant Pascal, the green variety, is by far the most healthful type. Too, it is excellent to store in the ridge until consumed. There are other desirable white varieties. Of course, Giant Pascal must be blanched the same as white sorts to render it tender.

Readers with questions about growing celery are urged to write the editor at once. Merely enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope or a 3-cent stamp for personal reply by return mail.

Washington, June 11 (AP)—Police said today that one of the men mentioned in the Judith Coplon trial yesterday had committed suicide here last week.

He was Morton E. Kent, 48, Chevy Chase, Md., whose throat-slashed body was found floating in the Potomac river last Saturday. District Coroner MacDonald pronounced the case a suicide.

Kent was a Russian-born former State department aide. Top-secret FBI documents read at the Coplon espionage trial yesterday said he had been in contact with Soviet secret police.

FRISCH WILL MANAGE CUBS

New York, June 11 (AP)—Starting Monday Frankie Frisch once again will be managing "oh, those bases on balls."

The famous Fordham Flash returns to the major league's managerial ranks as boss of the Chicago Cubs after more than two years' absence from headgear row.

Frisch, who warned his listeners every time a pitcher walked a batter, "oh, those bases on balls, they always hurt," while broadcasting New York Giant games from 1947-48, yesterday signed a three-year contract to lead the Cubs, replacing Charley Grimm who moved upstairs to the front office. The phrase, "oh, those bases on balls," still is repeated by thousands of New Yorkers today.

"The Dutchman" as Dizzy Dean used to call Frisch while driving him nuts during the Flash's tenure as player-manager of the Gashouse Gang at St. Louis, inherits a docile last-place team.

However, the situation will change. The Cubs may not burn up the league but you can bet your boots they will be on their toes or they won't be playing ball for "Onkie Frank" Frisch is a "McGraw" type manager, give no quarter ask no quarter. He began his major league career with the Giants in 1919, fresh from the Fordham campus.

Interstate League
(By The Associated Press)
George Freese, Lancaster second baseman, hit safely in his 23rd consecutive game to establish a new Interstate league record last night, but his team lost to York, 10 to 9.

Freese rapped a solid single to right field in his fourth time at bat to break a record set in 1940 by Hal Nerino of Sunbury. The consecutive string of 22 games later was equaled by Billy Cox of Harrisburg, now with Brooklyn, and Al Nowak of Hagerstown.

Despite the victory York dropped to fifth place. The White Roses were passed by the Harrisburg Senators who took a doubleheader over the second place Trenton Giants, 7 to 5 and 5 to 2. The nightcap was called in the last half of the sixth when rain sent the fans scurrying for shelter.

Seventh place Sunbury knocked off the league leading Wilmington Blue Rocks, 10 to 9. The Reds survived a Wilmington ninth inning rally. Relief pitcher Hal Valentine fanned second baseman George Gaskaska with two out and the tying run on third. Jim Dufus walked ten but held Hagerstown to five hits to give Allentown a 5 to 1 victory over the last place Marylanders.

"DARK HORSE" PHILLIES SNAP CARDS' STREAK

(By JACK HAND)
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Tab the fighting Phillies as the dark horse in the National league race.
Coming strong after a faltering start, Eddie Sawyer's young men have passed the fading New York Giants to move into the first division. They're only three games back of Brooklyn.

Kenny Heintzelman's 3-2 decision over the sizzling St. Louis Cardinals last night as the Phils' fourth straight victory and their seventh in the last eight games. Even more important, they're winning the close ones. A record of 12 victories in 21 one-run decision games is the answer to the Phil's progress.

Hammer Leads Attack
Heintzelman ended the Card surge after six successive wins, dropping the Birds a game and a half back of leading Brooklyn. The Dodgers protected their half-game edge on Boston by whipping Cincinnati, 10-5, while the Braves were dropping Chicago into the cellar, 6-2.

Gran Hamner, brilliant shortstop prospect of the Phils, hammered Al Brazie and his successors for four hits to pace the Phils' attack. He scored two of the three runs. It was the first setback for Brazie in almost a month.

The Dodgers broke loose with a six-run seventh inning climaxing by Carl Furillo's two-run homer, to give Joe Hatten his fifth victory. Despite two homers by Jimmy Bloodworth, who drove in four runs, Hatten went all the way.

Werle Helps Pirates Win
Warren Spahn nudged the Cubs into last place with a six-hitter while the Braves unloaded on Bob Rush and Porky Lade for 12 hits.

Southpaw Bill Werle helped Pittsburgh escape from the basement after a two-week stay when he spun a neat three-hitter against the New York Giants, 6-1. The loss was the Giants' fifth straight. They now have dropped all the way from first to fifth in five days. Walter Westlake hit a homer with Ralph Kiner on base in the second to get the Bucs off to an early lead over Larry Jansen.

Vic Raschi put the New York Yankees back on the win path snapping a four-game losing string, with a 3-2 edge over Cleveland. It was the ninth victory for Raschi and his fifth in a row.

Joe McCarthy's woes continued as his Boston Red Sox blew another one, 4-2, to Chicago. After losing three straight at St. Louis, the Sox were beaten on a four-run third inning.

Rain washed out a night game between the Philadelphia Athletics and St. Louis Browns. Washington and Detroit were not scheduled.

Yesterday's Sports In Brief
(By The Associated Press)
Baseball
Boston—Charlie Grimm quit as manager of the last place Chicago Cubs to take a front office job; Frankie Frisch, coach of the New York Giants, was given a three-year contract to replace him.

Golf
Chicago—Al Brosch of Garden City, N. Y., led at the halfway point in the National open golf tournament with a 36-hole total of 141; fifty-one qualified for the final two rounds; among those who failed to make it were Jimmy Demaret, who withdrew, Byron Nelson, Gene Sarazen and Chick Evans.

Racing
Chicago—Three jockeys were injured in a jam at the Lincoln fields at Washington park meeting. Angel Divera and Andy Lo Turco suffered serious injuries. Larry Grubb escaped with scratches.

Sport Shorts
New York, June 11 (AP)—Eight colts with definite designs on the 1939 three-year-old crown are scheduled to take a crack at the $61,500 Belmont Stakes today. This 81st running of the mile and one half classic doesn't have a real outstanding contender, such as Citation a year ago. But there are enough "ifs" and "ors" to make it one of a horse race for the expected crowd of around 50,000 persons.

Philadelphia, June 11 (AP)—A well-balanced Eastern squad tried for its 15th Sears Cup tennis title against New England today at the Philadelphia Cricket club. Eastern walloped Middle Atlantic, 9-0, and New England eliminated the defending championship Middle States squad in yesterday's opening round.

NO PAY FOR MINERS
Harrisburg, June 11 (AP)—The Commonwealth will probably deny jobless benefits to the state's 190,000 coal miners if they leave their jobs voluntarily next week. A. J. Caruso, director of the state Bureau of Employment and Unemployment Compensation, said Pennsylvania law always has barred compensation payments to persons who "voluntarily quit" their jobs.

The first steam carriage on record, built in France in 1769, traveled at three miles an hour and had to be refueled after 15 miles.

Gain Credit For Win On Forfeit

Harry's softball team of the Littlestown league won its game Friday evening on a forfeit. Games scheduled for next week follow: Monday, Mystic Chain vs. Crouse's; Tuesday, Harry's vs. Foundry; Wednesday, Crouse's vs. Windsor Shoe; Friday, Redeemer's vs. Eagles.

League Standing	W.	L.	Pct.
Harry's	2	0	1.000
Mystic Chain	1	0	1.000
Foundry	1	0	1.000
Crouse's	0	1	.000
Eagles	0	1	.000

BROSCH LEADS IN NATIONAL OPEN

Chicago, June 11 (AP)—Balding Al Brosch, a David among golf's Goliaths, clutched a one-stroke lead today as the 49th National Open entered a pressure-packed 36-hole windup.

With some of the game's greatest champions unqualified on the sidelines, the sunburned, 27-year-old outsider from Garden City, N. Y., headed a field pruned from 142 to 51 survivors. Brosch posted a 36-hole 141. The deadline was 150.

The near-sighted Brosch, who quips that he is lucky even to see the ball, coupled a par 71 with his opening round of 70. He reached the halfway point a mere stroke ahead of another "unknown" easy-going Buck White of Greenwood, Miss., and the prominent Cary Middlecoff.

Middlecoff, boyish ex-entender who has been bagging tourney golf gold for three years, rebounded from a dismal 75 to a course record-matching 34-33-67 for the tree-infested, 6,981-yard Medinah No. 3 layout. White, a former caddy, blazed into contention with a pair of 34's for 68 to go with his opening 74.

Bracketed at 143 were Claude Harmon, the 1948 Masters' winner, who authored 72-71; veteran Clayton Heafner with 72-71, and Les Kennedy, the young Rhode Island redhead from Pawtucket, ballooned to 74 after copping the first round lead with a 69.

Sports Roundup
By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, June 11 (AP)—Penn State's football prospects next fall depend largely on what the Nittany Lions get from California.

That's correct, confusing as it may sound. The freshman footballers were "farmed out" again at California (Pa.) State Teachers' college last fall and Joe Boden, starting his first season as head football coach, hasn't seen them yet.

"Our spring practice was devoted mostly to trying out second and third stringers who had been on the squad but hadn't played much," Joe explained. "As a result we eliminated about 16 of them. They won't be invited back for early practice, though they may turn out to be better than the kids from California who will be invited. . . . They just didn't look like the kind of players you need if you're going to have a good team. . . . And we'll need plenty of good reserves. We play Villanova and Army in the first two games."

BEST LAID PLANS
Shortly after the national fast-ball league went all out to step up hitting, even moving the pitcher's slab two feet farther back than in regular softball, this moan arrived from publicist Rodger Nelson of Fort Wayne, Ind. . . . "My boys are making my job tough. I'm trying to sell more offense and here's what they do in the first 11 games: Held our opponents to three runs; shut out the opposition in the last nine games and run up 68 consecutive scoreless innings. . . . Only bright spot is our batting average of .276."

Pro Colored Team To Play Emmitsburg
Business Manager Norman Flax announced this week that a baseball game has been scheduled for Emmitsburg with the Richmond Giants of the Colored American Association.

The Giants, currently touring in Ohio, will arrive in Emmitsburg from Cumberland, Thursday evening, June 23. Besides having a fast ball team, the pros will display many antics by their players.

Game time will be called at 8:30 in the evening.

Yesterday Stars
(By The Associated Press)
Vic Raschi, Yankees—Became major league's first nine-game winner with 3-2 victory over Cleveland, allowing only five hits.

Gran Hamner, Phillies—Led Phils to 3-2 victory over St. Louis with double and three singles.

MEET RECORDS MAY FALL TODAY

Harrisburg, June 11 (AP)—Meet records were in jeopardy here today as the east's top track and field stars opened competition in the 37th annual Middle Atlantic AAU championships.

Entries in the 230-yard low hurdles, 120-yard high hurdles, mile run, shot-put and discus throw have bettered the existing marks in previous attempts this season.

The collegiate track and field club of Philadelphia, with a full team entered, was favored to regain the team title lost last year to Penn State College. Only three Nittany Lions represented the college as the meet got underway at 2 p. m.

Nine other teams and 156 individual entries comprise the field attempting to qualify for the national AAU championship at Los Angeles, June 25.

The mile run seemed slated to be the day's feature event. That distance event pits together Horace Ashenfelder, Penn State's IC4A two-mile record holder and champion; Browning Ross, of Villanova, American olympic leader in the three-mile steeplechase, and Tom Krwan, University of Pennsylvania distance ace. The present Middle Atlantic mile record is 4:26 almost certain to be smashed as all three have done 4:14 or better this season.

Miss Smith
and Walter Coshun, all of Gettysburg. All of the men in the wedding party wore white coats and dark trousers.

Bobby Smith, York Springs, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer and carried the rings on a heart-shaped white satin pillow edged with lace, decorated with white satin streamers and tiny white flowers. He was attired in a white suit.

Reception Follows
The flower girl, Miss Lynne McCoy, of Gettysburg, was dressed in a gown of white organdie with a bertha collar and a ruffled hoop skirt and wore a white organdie bonnet. She carried a petal basket from which she dropped rose petals in the path of the bride.

The bride's mother was attired in a navy blue sheer dress with navy and white accessories. She wore a corsage of pink rosebuds. The mother of the bridegroom wore an aqua crepe dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of white rosebuds.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church social rooms for the relatives and a few friends, after which the couple left on a wedding trip. Hostesses at the receptions were Miss Mildred Coshun, Miss Sara Mehling, Mrs. Irvin Keiser, Miss Coetta Bream, Mrs. Richard Naugle, all of Gettysburg, and Miss Eleanor Skiles, of Downingtown.

The bride is a graduate of Gettysburg high school, class of 1944, and of West Chester State Teachers' college, class of 1948. Teh setback dropped the lunchmen into a tie with the VFW for third place and pulled the Elks to within half a game of the Lentz Legion.

FRISCH WILL MANAGE CUBS

New York, June 11 (AP)—Starting Monday Frankie Frisch once again will be meaning, "oh, those bases on balls."
The famous Fordham Flash returns to the major league's managerial ranks as boss of the Chicago Cubs, after more than two years' absence from headcoach row.
Frisch, who warned his listeners every time a pitcher walked a batter, "oh, those bases on balls, they always hurt," while broadcasting New York Giant games from 1947-48, yesterday signed a three-year contract to lead the Cubs, replacing Charley Grimm who moved upstairs to the front office. The phrase, "oh, those bases on balls," still is repeated by thousands of New Yorkers today.
"The Dutchman" as Dizzy Dean used to call Frisch while driving him nuts during the Flash's tenure as player-manager of the Gasowish Gang at St. Louis, inherits a docile last-place team.
However, the situation will change. The Cubs may not burn up the league but you can bet your boots they will be on their toes or they won't be playing ball for "Onkie Frank." Frisch is a "McGraw" type manager, give no quarter ask no quarter. He began his major league career with the Giants in 1919, fresh from the Fordham campus.

Interstate League

(By The Associated Press)
George Freese, Lancaster second baseman, hit safely in his 23rd consecutive game to establish a new Interstate league record last night, but his team lost to York, 10 to 9.
Freese rapped a solid single to right field in his fourth time at bat to break a record set in 1940 by Hal Nerino of Sunbury. The consecutive string of 22 games later was equalled by Billy Cox of Harrisburg, now with Brooklyn, and Al Nowak of Hagerstown.
Despite the victory York dropped to fifth place. The White Roses were passed by the Harrisburg Senators who took a doubleheader over the second place Trenton Giants, 7 to 5 and 5 to 2. The nightcap was called in the last half of the sixth when rain sent the fans scurrying for shelter.
Seventh place Sunbury knocked off the league leading Wilmington Blue Rocks, 10 to 9. The Reds survived a Wilmington ninth inning rally. Relief pitcher Hal Valentine fanned second baseman George Gasdaska with two out and the tying run on third. Jim Dufus walked ten but held Hagerstown to five hits to give Allentown a 5 to 1 victory over the last place Marylanders.

"DARK HORSE" PHILLIES SNAP CARDS' STREAK

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Tab the fighting Phillies as the dark horse in the National league race.
Coming strong after a faltering start, Eddie Sawyer's young men have passed the fading New York Giants to move into the first division. They're only three games back of Brooklyn.
Kenny Heintzelman's 3-2 decision over the sizzling St. Louis Cardinals last night as the Phils' fourth straight victory and their seventh in the last eight games. Even more important, they're winning the close ones. A record of 12 victories in 21 one-run decision games is the answer to the Phil's progress.
Hammer Leads Attack
Heintzelman ended the Card surge after six successive wins, dropping the Birds a game and a half back of leading Brooklyn. The Dodgers protected their half-game edge on Boston by whipping Cincinnati, 10-5, while the Braves were dropping Chicago into the cellar, 6-2.
Gran Hammer's brilliant shortstop prospect of the Phils, hammered Al Brazle and his successors for four hits to pace the Phil's attack. He scored two of the three runs. It was the first setback for Brazle in almost a month.
The Dodgers broke loose with a six-run seventh inning climaxing by Carl Furillo's two-run homer, to give Joe Hatten his fifth victory. Despite two homers by Jimmy Bloodworth, who drove in four runs, Hatten went all the way.
Werle Helps Pirates Win
Warren Spahn nudged the Cubs into last place with a six-hitter while the Braves unloaded on Bob Rush and Porky Lade for 12 hits.
Southpaw Bill Werle helped Pittsburgh escape from the basement after a two-week stay when he spun a near three-hitter against the New York Giants, 6-1. The loss was the Giants' fifth straight. They now have dropped all the way from first to fifth in five days. Walby Westlake hit a homer with Ralph Kiner on base in the second to get the Bucs off to an early lead over Larry Jansen.
Vic Raschi put the New York Yankees back on the win path snapping a four-game losing string, with a 3-2 edge over Cleveland. It was the ninth victory for Raschi and his fifth in a row.
Joe McCarthy's woes continued as his Boston Red Sox blew another one, 4-2, to Chicago. After losing three straight at St. Louis, the Sox were beaten on a four-run third inning.
Rain washed out a night game between the Philadelphia Athletics and St. Louis Browns. Washington and Detroit were not scheduled.

Gain Credit For Win On Forfeit
Harry's softball team of the Littlestown league won its game Friday evening on a forfeit. Games scheduled for next week follow: Monday, Mystic Chain vs. Crouse's; Tuesday, Harry's vs. Foundry; Wednesday, Crouse's vs. Windsor Shoe; Friday, Redeemer's vs. Eagles.

BROSCHE LEADS IN NATIONAL OPEN

Chicago, June 11 (AP)—Elding Al Brosch, a David among golf's Goliaths, clutched a one-stroke lead today as the 49th National Open entered a pressure-packed 36-hole windup.
With some of the game's greatest champions unqualified on the sidelines, the sunburned, 27-year-old outsider from Garden City, N. Y., headed a field pruned from 142 to 51 survivors. Brosch posted a 36-hole 141. The deadline was 150.
The near-sighted Brosch, who quips that he is lucky even to see the ball, coupled a par 71 with his opening round of 70. He reached the halfway point a mere stroke ahead of another "unknown" easy-going Buck White of Greenwood, Miss., and the prominent Cary Middlecoff.
Middlecoff, boyish ex-dentist who has been bagging tourney golf gold for three years, rebounded from a dismal 75 to a course record-matching 34-37 for the tree-infested, 6,981-yard Medinah No. 3 layout. White, a former caddy, blazed into contention with a pair of 34's for 68 to go with his opening 74.
Bracketed at 143 were Claude Harmon, the 1948 Masters' winner, who authored 72-71; veteran Clayton Heafner with 72-71, and Les Kennedy. Kennedy, the young Rhode Island redhead from Pawtucket, ballooned to 74 after copping the first round lead with a 69.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, June 11 (AP) — Penn State's football prospects next fall depend largely on what the Nittany Lions get from California. . . . That's correct, confusing as it may sound. The freshman footballers were "farmed out" again at California (Pa.) State Teachers' college last fall and Joe Bedem, starting his first season as head football coach, hasn't seen them yet. . . . "Our spring practice was devoted mostly to trying out second and third stringers who had been on the squad but hadn't played much," Joe explained. "As a result we eliminated about 16 of them. They won't be invited back for early practice, though they may turn out to be better than the kids from California who will be invited. . . . They just didn't look like the kind of players you need if you're going to have a good team. . . . And we'll need plenty of good reserves. We play Villanova and Army in the first two games."

Yesterday's Sports In Brief

(By The Associated Press)
Baseball
Boston — Charlie Grimm quit as manager of the last place Chicago Cubs to take a front office job; Frankie Frisch, coach of the New York Giants, was given a three-year contract to replace him.
Golf
Chicago — Al Brosch of Garden City, N. Y., led at the halfway point in the National open golf tournament with a 36-hole total of 141; fifty-one qualified for the final two rounds; among those who failed to make it were Jimmy Demaret, who withdrew, Byron Nelson, Gene Sarazen and Chick Evans.
Racing
Chicago — Three jockeys were injured in a jam at the Lincoln fields-at-Washington park meeting. Angel Divera and Andy Lo Turco suffered serious injuries. Larry Grubb escaped with scratches.

Sport Shorts

New York, June 11 (AP)—Eight colts with definite designs on the 1939 three-year-old crown are scheduled to take a crack at the $61,500 Belmont Stakes today. This 81st running of the mile and one half classic doesn't have a real outstanding contender, such as Citation a year ago. But there are enough "ifs" and "ors" to make it one whale of a horse race for the expected crowd of around 50,000 persons.
Philadelphia, June 11 (AP)—A well-balanced Eastern squad tried for its 15th Sears Cup tennis title against New England today at the Philadelphia Cricket club. Eastern walloped Middle Atlantic, 9-0, and New England eliminated the defending championship Middle States squad in yesterday's opening round.

NO PAY FOR MINERS

Harrisburg, June 11 (AP) — The Commonwealth will probably deny jobless benefits to the state's 190,000 coal miners if they leave their jobs voluntarily next week. A. J. Caruso, director of the state Bureau of Employment and Unemployment Compensation, said Pennsylvania law always has barred compensation payments to persons who "voluntarily quit" their jobs.
The first steam carriage on record, built in France in 1769, traveled at three miles an hour and had to be refueled after 15 miles.

MEET RECORDS MAY FALL TODAY

Harrisburg, June 11 (P) — Meet records were in jeopardy here today as the east's top track and field stars opened competition in the 37th annual Middle Atlantic AAU championships.
Entries in the 220-yard low hurdles, 120-yard high hurdles, mile run, shot-put and discus throw have bettered the existing marks in previous attempts this season.
The collegiate track and field club of Philadelphia, with a full team entered, was favored to regain the team title lost last year to Penn State College. Only three Nittany Lions represented the college as the meet got underway at 2 p. m.
Nine other teams and 156 individual entries comprise the field attempting to qualify for the national AAU championship at Los Angeles, June 25.
The mile run seemed slated to be the day's feature event. That distance event pits together Horace Ashenfelter, Penn State's 104A two-mile record holder and champion; Browning Ross, of Villanova, American olympic leader in the three-mile steeplechase, and Tom Krwan, University of Pennsylvania distance ace. The present Middle Atlantic mile record is 4:26 almost certain to be smashed as all three have done 4:14 or better this season.

Hostesses at the receptions were Miss Mildred Coshum, Miss Sara Mehning, Mrs. Irvin Keiser, Miss Coetta Bream, Mrs. Richard Naugle, all of Gettysburg, and Miss Eleanor Skiles, of Downingtown.

Best Laid Plans

Shortly after the national fast-ball league went all out to stop up hitting, even moving the pitcher's slab two feet farther back than in regular softball, this moan arrived from publicist Roger Nelson of Fort Wayne, Ind. . . . "My boys are making my job tough. I'm trying to sell more offense and here's what they do in the first 11 games: Held our opponents to three runs; shut out the opposition in the last nine games and run up 68 consecutive scoreless innings. . . . Only bright spot is our batting average of .276."

Pro Colored Team To Play Emmitsburg

Business Manager Norman Flax announced this week that a baseball game has been scheduled for Emmitsburg with the Richmond Giants of the Colored American Association.
The Giants, currently touring in Ohio, will arrive in Emmitsburg from Cumberland, Thursday evening, June 23. Besides having a fast ball team, the pros will display many antics by their players.
Game time will be called at 8.30 in the evening.

Yesterday Stars

(By The Associated Press)

Vic Raschi, Yankees — Became major league's first nine-game winner with 3-2 victory over Cleveland, allowing only five hits.
Batting
Gran Hammer, Phillies — Led Phils to 3-2 victory over St. Louis with double and three singles.

Long Reception On Television

Easton, Pa., June 11 (P)—Charles Afterbach is wondering if he hasn't got an unusual television set.
While the set was in Arnold Haskins' radio store in downtown Easton yesterday a picture was received from Miami. Haskins identified the Miami station as WTVJ.
Later Afterbach took the set to his Bangor home and said he received WBAP in Ft. Worth, Texas. Miami is approximately 1,200 miles from Easton and Ft. Worth about 1,900 from Bangor.

Today's Talk

FRIENDLY UNDERSTANDING

Just think for a moment of how much trouble could be eliminated in this world if people would only try to understand each other. It's misunderstandings that start disputes, cause hateful things to be said (that one often regrets later) and which often end in a most tragic manner.

Take inter-national affairs for example. If those seeking a solution for troublesome problems would meet as friends, and discuss all points in a friendly manner, how quickly all misunderstandings would be wiped out. And what a world we would then have!

How comforting is that one who comes to you when in trouble or sorrow and gives friendly understanding. Perhaps no words, even, are expressed—just the friendly eye or grasp of hand. What a world of meaning may be transferred by this friendly understanding!

Too many of us jump to conclusions without thinking or trying to understand the other one's viewpoint. Each of us has a right to believe in his own way, so that when a misunderstanding arises with another we should immediately put it upon a friendly basis and in considerate fashion proceed to a friendly understanding.

How few of us have learned the great value of these two words—I'm sorry? And yet they have wiped out many an unhappy misunderstanding, and brought light into many a troubled mind and heart. Consideration for the feelings of others is an art because a friendly understanding is always then the happy result.

So much of life is a compromise—a give and take. But when we try to give more than we take, we are the winner! Most misunderstandings hinge upon a very small thing. We can well afford to overlook much and play up to the more important phases of any problem in which we are concerned. The other fellow has his side, and it may be the right side! Or, our side may be the right one. By a friendly understanding both sides may bring about one right side. Give it a trial and see what a happy ending!

JUNE BRIDE

Sweet bride of June! Your wedding day,
Which once had seemed so far away,
Has come at last,
The dreaming passed,
And now there are the vows to say.

So young, so beautiful to see
In all your wedding finery,
'Tis joy and pride
To be a bride,
But there are happier days to be.

You're lovely now, but lovelier still
Will be the roles that you may fill
As time goes by.
The first faint cry
You hear your baby make will thrill.

God grants you grace with added years
And softer charms when age appears,
But still above
All else are love,
A joyous home, and faith for tears.

OLD QUESTION OF COMMUNISTS IN SCHOOLS IS UP

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, June 11 (AP)—There's been a running argument for months over this question: Should a Communist party member be allowed to teach in American schools?

Those on the "yes" side, putting their emphasis on the importance of academic freedom, argue this way: A teacher should not be interfered with unless he's caught trying to twist his teaching to fit the party line.

But catching him at it, say those on the "no" side, is difficult. To do that, they say, would require spying and once spying started in a school the faculty would be paralyzed or ruined.

Prof. Hook's Analysis

They argue that once a man is a Communist party member he is no longer free to teach what he may truly think because: He is a disciplined party member and must follow the party line, no matter how it shifts or changes.

Professor Sidney Hook of New York University, one of those on the "no" side, had a long analysis of the problem last February in the New York Times magazine section.

He said teachers who want to stay in the Communist party "must believe and teach what the party line decrees." And he added: "A party line is laid down for every area of thought from art to zoology."

Another Point of View

As proof of his statement, a very interesting job, Hook quoted from the Communist official party organ of May, 1937, in part:

"Communist teachers must take advantage of their positions without exposing themselves, to give their students to the best of their ability a working class education."

Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr., author of the "Age of Jackson," reached an astonishing conclusion on May 14 in the Saturday Review of Literature when he said: No university in its "senses would knowingly hire a Communist," but once such a man was hired he shouldn't be fired for his beliefs alone unless having him around was a real danger.

20 Educators Give Opinion

Those who say a Communist should not be hired to teach received their strongest support this week from 20 educators, including General Eisenhower, president of Columbia University, and James B. Conant, president of Harvard.

In a 54-page booklet made public by the National Education Association, they said: "Members of the Communist party of the United States should not be employed as teachers." They said party members are not "free to think for themselves," and added: "It is because members of the party are required to surrender this right, as a consequence of becoming part of a movement characterized by conspiracy and calculated deceit, that they should be excluded from employment as teachers."

They said Communists "surrender intellectual integrity" and therefore are rendered "unfit to discharge the duties of a teacher in this country." The 20 educators offered no proof but plainly said their statement was their opinion.

Chapter 9

By the time Saturday arrived, Jeff had partaken of enough antidote to restore him to something near his normal outlook on life. He had firmly convinced himself that Connie was never intended for old and homely he. He had even succeeded in persuading himself to believe that a marriage between Connie and Glenn would be the best thing in the world that could happen.

Due to the excitement over the killing of Sam Tolson, he had neglected to purchase his supplies on his previous visit to Cougar, so he rode to town late Saturday afternoon.

As he entered the store a lively discussion which had been under way came to an abrupt halt. Jeff glanced about him. Besides Hank Wolfgang, the owner, he saw Chuck Gale and two of his men, a cowboy from the Crown, a miner named Benson, and Bud Snyder, the undertaker.

Jeff moved over to the counter. "I interrupt something?" he inquired. "Yeah, you did." It was Chuck Gale who answered, and his voice was flat and cold. He went on as Jeff turned slowly to face him. "Bud was wonderin'—and he got us to wonderin', too—how come there were powder burns around the wound in Sam's head."

"That's easy. Glenn shot him. For no reason whatever—just like that." He fixed Gale with a cold stare. "That's what you're thinking, isn't it?"

"There could 'a' been a reason. Sam's gold. They took that shack apart without findin' it."

His two men had been standing near him; now one moved a few paces away and the other started edging in the opposite direction. "Stand hitched, boys," came the drawing voice of the Crown puncher. "You make me nervous, movin' around thataway."

Gale's two men halted where they were.

"I'm waiting, Chuck," said Jeff quietly, "to hear you say that you were just—wonderin'."

"I told you that's all we were doin'—wonderin'," he said sulkily.

He turned to Hank and ordered the few things he wanted, then passed out of the store. The Crown puncher came trailing after him. Outside, Jeff said, "Much obliged, cowboy."

"Think nothin' of it," answered the other. "Keep your eye on that Chuck feller. He's bad medicine, and you made him eat cold corn in public. He ain't the bird to forget."

Jeff found Glenn in his kitchen eating supper, and drew a chair up to the table. Glenn was enthusiastic over his new office and declared that he had already made some profitable connections.

"That's fine," said Jeff heartily. "And here's something you'll like: Connie's invited us over to the Crown tomorrow with the guarantee that there won't be any free-for-all fights on the menu."

Final Planting Dates Arrive

With the calendar moving toward the halfway mark for 1949, final planting dates demand every gardener's serious attention. For the first three weeks of June six important vegetables fall into this "must" group—eggplant, peppers and tomatoes by use of well rooted plants, and winter squash, pumpkins, and rutabagas by seed.

Eggplant is a hot-weather vegetable, native of tropical regions. From 110 to 140 days are required for plants to reach maturity from date of planting seed. Therefore, seed must be sown under glass in April, with well rooted and thrifty plants set out no later than June 1 to 15. Use of fresh stable manures or heavy applications of commercial fertilizers should be avoided, although this vegetable should have the richest and most mellow loam of the garden. Black Beauty and Florida Highbush are among the more popular varieties.

Sweet peppers, along with any of the so-called "hot" varieties desired, should be set out within the next few days. Most of the large sweet varieties used for salads (raw) and in various pickling roles require from 130 to 150 days from date of sowing seed to maturity. This means that well rooted plants must be set out anywhere from June 1 to 15. And even with this limitation, it may be necessary to afford covering protection if unseasonably early frosts arrive in September. No vegetable exceeds sweet peppers as a source of valuable vitamins. Well laden plants may be taken up and kept several weeks indoors after frosts come in the fall.

Every gardener should utilize suitable idle sites left from harvesting earlier vegetables for growing plenty of late tomatoes. Vigorously rooted plants should be set out within the next week to 10 days to gain safety within climatic limits for this latitude. The late tomato crop is needed for immediate table use in early fall, for canning, and for use as green tomatoes in making various pickle preparations. Unmatured, late-maturing tomatoes caught by the first killing frosts may be stored in cold frame.

The new officer is Clarence J. Downin, 30, of Waynesboro, Mr. Downin was a sergeant in the Marine Corps in World War II and has had previous police experience.

The town fathers announced that from now on any complaints from the citizenry will have to be written or presented at their regular meetings which are held in the firemen's hall the first Tuesday of each month. They will not be honored otherwise.

Acquisition of a second cell in the firemen's hall for women and negro prisoners was made when the fire company granted permission of its use to the police department. Prisoners may be held in confinement indefinitely in the local jail, with or without an attendant.

Twenty-six members of the 4-H club of Biglerville and their leaders Miss Mary Jane Mickey, Mrs. Waybright Thomas, and Mrs. Kenneth Gause, hiked to Brown's Bottom Thursday afternoon where campfires were built. The club members decided on the name "Freight" for their club. They also decided what nature studies they would like to pursue, and discussed a money raising project. The next meeting will be held June 30 in the school auditorium.

The Vacation Bible school which was held this week in the Lutheran church at Bendersville closed Friday morning with a picnic at the firemen's grove. Teachers for the school were: Mrs. Evers Rhinehart, Miss Mae McCauslin, Mrs. Romayne Decker, Miss Joan Blocher, Miss Alvie Starnier, Miss Jean Starnier, and Mrs. George Schriver.

Miss Alvie Starnier, Aspers is spending alumni week-end at Camp Nawakwa.

During the Sunday school hour at the Methodist church in Wewksville Richard Morrison will give a recorded account of the Central Pennsylvania conference of the Methodist church held recently in Altoona.

Nelson F. Kane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis L. Kane of Guernsey, was among the graduates who received diplomas at the Ohio State university commencement exercises on Friday.

hotbed or other shaded and medium cool place and ripening controlled until early winter.

Winter varieties of squash—hard-rind types—should be planted no later than June 15. Here is an excellent vegetable for all-winter storage, a fine source of reheated food for home consumption and revenue from local marketing. The old reliable Hubbards should be included, along with the popular Acorn and the newer Buttercup, Butternut, and other types personally desired. The Acorn, sometimes called Table Queen, is perhaps superior to all other winter squashes for baking on the half-shell. Too, this squash, along with the Hubbards, are excellent keepers in storage. Beginners will be pleased with the Buttercup and Butternut.

Pumpkins have about the same planting limits as winter squash. Often they can be grown between the rows of late sweet corn or used in fences rows where the soil is usually rich and otherwise idle. All varieties store easily for all-winter use or sale in a well ventilated room where the temperature ranges in the upper 40s or lower 50s.

Rutabagas require slightly more time than turnips to mature. Therefore, seed should be sown not later than June 20, although a few days earlier is not unwise. Richer in vitamins than turnips, the yellow-flesh rutabagas make a fine addition to the family's fall and winter food supply. They are easy to store, preferably by burial in an outdoor pit.

SEDUMS FOR SUMMER HOT SPOTS

Hot, dry weather in July and August often reveals many barren places in the home grounds where a heat-resistant ornamental is needed. These hot spots may be an exposed terrace, a stone wall, a spot against a concrete walk, or an inhospitable space along the foundation. Where or what this sun-baked area may be, sedums should be considered as perhaps the best of all ornamental fillers. One of the most appropriate times to make appraisals of such needs is when the problem is visibly irritating to the grower—hot weather in late summer.

There are evergreen and herbaceous varieties of sedums. Many retain their beautifully refreshing foliage even through severe winters, while several die back in late fall and resume growth in the spring. Beginners with flowers often make the mistake of denying themselves intimate acquaintance with the sedums, sempervivums and similar hardy carpeting ornamentals by lumping them together in one group and mistakenly calling them "Everlastings."

Golden Moss is the common name of the sedum listed in catalogues as Acre. This was formerly seen in rural cemeteries. It is an excellent creeping variety and may be wisely and effectively used in numerous carpeting roles in the home grounds.

Sarmentosum is another excellent creeping and carpeting form, popular for filling rock crevices and covering stone walls in exposed places.

Many experienced growers call the Siebold sedum the finest of varieties. Its silvery leaves turn to a misty purple in late fall, with pink flowers appearing in October.

Stoloniferum is evergreen in habit, attaining a height of about 6 inches. Ternatum does well in shade and is used for carpeting areas where other ground covers fail.

Other varieties worth investigating are Album, Evers, Glaucum, Lydium, Rupestris, Spurius, Coeruleum, and at least a half dozen more.

How may a beginner start sedums?

The easiest way is to buy nursery plants or obtain divisions and set them out in late October or early spring. Where seed can be obtained, it may be sown in a sunny bed in late July or early August and plants moved to their permanent growing

It's a good many years since the country cousin thought he could find the horsepower of the city slicker's car by raising the hood and counting the plugs.

All Gunned Up

There are several reasons why hydraulic brakes may apply themselves and lock the wheels, but one that is often overlooked stems from failure to have the braking system flushed out with the special alcohol base fluids for this purpose. Use of poor quality brake fluids also aggravates it. What happens is that the piston of the brake master cylinder becomes gummy, thus resisting the pressure of the spring that is supposed to move the piston to the off position when you remove your foot from the brake pedal. Thus the compensating port isn't uncovered and any pressure that builds up in the system will be sufficient to self-apply the brakes.

Let's Get This Straight

Taking a Springtime jaunt in the car I was a bit discouraged when a filling station attendant unscrewed the cap of the radiator and filled the system until it ran over. In the first place this is a pressure system and the cap should not have been removed while the engine was hot. In the second place, he over-filled the system, and that meant loss out the overflow later, due to expansion. The third error really got me thinking. I happened to mention that I had ethylene glycol in the cooling system. "That's good," was his comment. "You can leave that in the system all summer." What he meant was that this anti-freeze makes a good summer coolant because it has a boiling point higher than plain water, but he failed to consider the fact that no coolant should be used for longer than a few months because it becomes acid from normal slow gas leakage past the cylinder head gasket.

Three To Remember

Always remember to sound the horn twice when approaching an intersection, with a reasonable pause in between. This gives you an opportunity to hear the other fellow's warning. It often happens that warnings cancel out each other. At 25 miles an hour you can make a turn four times as sharp as you can at 50.

While burning of the breaker points can be due to a bad condenser, or one of wrong capacity the usual trouble is a loose connection in the primary circuit for the ignition. Blackening of points usually is due to oil mist in the distributor.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"Now and again I am faced with the problem of helping some traveler get along with a slipping clutch. If this trouble is found to be due to oil working into the clutch from a worn rear main motor bearing, or to bad oil retainer, I can sometimes clear up the trouble temporarily by flushing the clutch with carbon tetrachloride. This is squirted into the clutch through the plate at the top of the clutch housing and it exits through the vent at the bottom. A lot of it must be used for an effective job. But slipping often will cease long enough for the traveler to get home and have the motor bearing job done together with a clutch overhaul."

New in Knocks

Ever have the brakes knock when you apply them in close quarters as when stopping the car in the garage?

This is likely to be due to trouble with one of the drums, especially if the drums have been refaced to correct a warped condition and the owner has not been too careful to avoid sudden stops. Sometimes the work was badly done. Anyhow what happens is that the shoes of one of the brakes get caught in rough edges of the drum and actually pull across the drum with a thud.

Unfair to New Cars

If you are among the many millions now shopping around for a new car be sure you don't fall partly to the fallacy of thinking you have gained a reasonably accurate estimate of a car just because you have ridden in it. You should always take the wheel and see for yourself. A lot of fine cars are handicapped by poor driving. One shopper was completely unimpressed by the highly advanced automatic features of one of the current jobs, never realizing that the trouble was entirely due to its operator being too heavy-footed. The Elegant Eight is a fine looking car, but its brakes are too harsh, in the opinion of another shopper. It is just that the fellow who had the wheel was something of a motor roughneck. Some drivers let the brake pedal come up with a thud; others set the hand brake while the car is still rolling. It's a little like trying to judge the beauty of a new car's finish by taking a look at it after a day in the rain.

Why They Break

If the Springtime finds your engine developing the disturbing habit of breaking its valve springs the chances are that you are reaping the penalty for not giving the crankcase more attention. Either there has been excessive dilution from poor crankcase ventilation and inefficient engine operation or the oil has not been changed often enough. Anyhow the valve springs have corroded. Such corrosion always weakens them.

Pointer on Brakes

After an emergency stop, in which the brakes have been forced to lock, it is well to consider the possibility of their failure to release. One trick that sometimes serves to get them back to normal again is to give the pedal another quick jab. What usually happens is that one or two of the brake pistons will jam because of the excess pressure on the pedal. In a recent case it was found that one of the brake shoe return springs broke. There was nothing to do to check this dragging but to replace the spring.

For Trees and Radiators

Lubrication engineers tell me that those emulsifying oils now being used to spray fruit trees make excellent rust inhibitors for automobile cooling systems. Such oils can be purchased in bulk at low prices. This is the economical way to prevent rusting of the cooling system and radiator, but always remember that a little of such oil is sufficient. Two ounces ought to be enough for the average cooling system for the summer. That is one reason why it is probably better for the average motorist to use inhibitors that are already in bottled form. If the stuff is fluid and milky white it is the emulsifying oil type.

What's On Your Mind

Q Would the automatic spark advance have anything to do with the fact that the engine of my car seems to falter when slowing down in high gear?—H. H. K.

A Yes, although there would be other reasons for this. Try hooking up the vacuum control suction tube to a point above the throttle instead of below it.

Q What would cause a decided knock in the engine when there is abrupt change in its speed? I am sure this isn't due to a bearing or (Please Turn to Page 6)

Riding with Russell

REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.
by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL member S.A.E.

It's a good many years since the country cousin thought he could find the horsepower of the city slicker's car by raising the hood and counting the plugs.

All Gunned Up

There are several reasons why hydraulic brakes may apply themselves and lock the wheels, but one that is often overlooked stems from failure to have the braking system flushed out with the special alcohol base fluids for this purpose. Use of poor quality brake fluids also aggravates it. What happens is that the piston of the brake master cylinder becomes gummy, thus resisting the pressure of the spring that is supposed to move the piston to the off position when you remove your foot from the brake pedal. Thus the compensating port isn't uncovered and any pressure that builds up in the system will be sufficient to self-apply the brakes.

Let's Get This Straight

Taking a Springtime jaunt in the car I was a bit discouraged when a filling station attendant unscrewed the cap of the radiator and filled the system until it ran over. In the first place this is a pressure system and the cap should not have been removed while the engine was hot. In the second place, he over-filled the system, and that meant loss out the overflow later, due to expansion. The third error really got me thinking. I happened to mention that I had ethylene glycol in the cooling system. "That's good," was his comment. "You can leave that in the system all summer." What he meant was that this anti-freeze makes a good summer coolant because it has a boiling point higher than plain water, but he failed to consider the fact that no coolant should be used for longer than a few months because it becomes acid from normal slow gas leakage past the cylinder head gasket.

Three To Remember

Always remember to sound the horn twice when approaching an intersection, with a reasonable pause in between. This gives you an opportunity to hear the other fellow's warning. It often happens that warnings cancel out each other. At 25 miles an hour you can make a turn four times as sharp as you can at 50.

While burning of the breaker points can be due to a bad condenser, or one of wrong capacity the usual trouble is a loose connection in the primary circuit for the ignition. Blackening of points usually is due to oil mist in the distributor.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"Now and again I am faced with the problem of helping some traveler get along with a slipping clutch. If this trouble is found to be due to oil working into the clutch from a worn rear main motor bearing, or to bad oil retainer, I can sometimes clear up the trouble temporarily by flushing the clutch with carbon tetrachloride. This is squirted into the clutch through the plate at the top of the clutch housing and it exits through the vent at the bottom. A lot of it must be used for an effective job. But slipping often will cease long enough for the traveler to get home and have the motor bearing job done together with a clutch overhaul."

New in Knocks

Ever have the brakes knock when you apply them in close quarters as when stopping the car in the garage?

This is likely to be due to trouble with one of the drums, especially if the drums have been refaced to correct a warped condition and the owner has not been too careful to avoid sudden stops. Sometimes the work was badly done. Anyhow what happens is that the shoes of one of the brakes get caught in rough edges of the drum and actually pull across the drum with a thud.

Unfair to New Cars

If you are among the many millions now shopping around for a new car be sure you don't fall partly to the fallacy of thinking you have gained a reasonably accurate estimate of a car just because you have ridden in it. You should always take the wheel and see for yourself. A lot of fine cars are handicapped by poor driving. One shopper was completely unimpressed by the highly advanced automatic features of one of the current jobs, never realizing that the trouble was entirely due to its operator being too heavy-footed. The Elegant Eight is a fine looking car, but its brakes are too harsh, in the opinion of another shopper. It is just that the fellow who had the wheel was something of a motor roughneck. Some drivers let the brake pedal come up with a thud; others set the hand brake while the car is still rolling. It's a little like trying to judge the beauty of a new car's finish by taking a look at it after a day in the rain.

Why They Break

If the Springtime finds your engine developing the disturbing habit of breaking its valve springs the chances are that you are reaping the penalty for not giving the crankcase more attention. Either there has been excessive dilution from poor crankcase ventilation and inefficient engine operation or the oil has not been changed often enough. Anyhow the valve springs have corroded. Such corrosion always weakens them.

Pointer on Brakes

After an emergency stop, in which the brakes have been forced to lock, it is well to consider the possibility of their failure to release. One trick that sometimes serves to get them back to normal again is to give the pedal another quick jab. What usually happens is that one or two of the brake pistons will jam because of the excess pressure on the pedal. In a recent case it was found that one of the brake shoe return springs broke. There was nothing to do to check this dragging but to replace the spring.

For Trees and Radiators

Lubrication engineers tell me that those emulsifying oils now being used to spray fruit trees make excellent rust inhibitors for automobile cooling systems. Such oils can be purchased in bulk at low prices. This is the economical way to prevent rusting of the cooling system and radiator, but always remember that a little of such oil is sufficient. Two ounces ought to be enough for the average cooling system for the summer. That is one reason why it is probably better for the average motorist to use inhibitors that are already in bottled form. If the stuff is fluid and milky white it is the emulsifying oil type.

What's On Your Mind

Q. Would the automatic spark advance have anything to do with the fact that the engine of my car seems to falter when slowing down in high gear?—H. H. K.

A. Yes, although there would be other reasons for this. Try hooking up the vacuum control suction tube to a point above the throttle instead of below it.

SENATORS CALL FOR BIG CUTS IN ERP FUNDS

By DON WHITEHEAD
Washington, June 11 (AP)—Senators called today for cuts of up to $780,000,000 in the European Recovery program.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told reporters the Economic Cooperation Administration can stand a 10 per cent cut in the $3,568,470,000 fund voted by the House. He said he will back such a cut.

But Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) a member of the Senate Appropriations committee, said he will urge a flat $780,000,000 slash.

McCarran said he is basing his recommendation on a study made by the staff of the Senate House "Watchdog" committee. This group was set up to keep a check on ECA spending.

Clash With McKellar
The committee has authorized McCarran to use this material, but not as a committee recommendation. "There are some places in the program," McCarran said, "where we can make a direct cut. The rest of it should be done by the ECA administrator."

McCarran said ECA Chief Paul Hoffman has "done as good a job as any one man could do."

"But the project is too big," he added, "and in many places it has gotten away from him."

Chairman McKellar (D-Tenn.) of the Appropriations committee angrily told Hoffman yesterday that his resignation "would be a very good thing."

"I Hope You Do"

Senator George (D-Ga.) told a reporter there is no "disposition in the Senate to cripple ECA." But he said he favors making the agency spread the $3,568,470,000 over 12 months instead of the 10 months allowed by the House.

Hoffman has said he will not return and ask for more money. He said he will try to do the job with whatever money he gets even if the program "goes to pot."

But he added he will step out as administrator if he believes he cannot do the job with the money furnished by Congress. It was that statement by Hoffman which led to McKellar's bitter comment: "I hope you do resign."

Robber Asks For Psychiatric Check

Binghamton, N. Y., June 11 (AP)—A psychiatric examination will be given Guy E. Vandemark, 27, of South Montrose, Pa., accused of armed robbery.

Vandemark asked for the examination and a preliminary hearing last night when he was arraigned before Justice of the Peace William Truckenmiller. Truckenmiller said the Pennsylvania man will be examined by a psychiatrist within a few days.

Vandemark is accused of breaking into the grocery store-home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Potter at Corbettville, N. Y., last December 17. He was arrested May 7 in Montrose and was brought here after he waived extradition.

Broom County Sheriff Arlington B. Thatcher said Vandemark shot Potter in the stomach when Potter came to the cellar to stoke the furnace and shot Mrs. Potter in the head. Both recovered from their wounds.

40,000 Admirers Wear Out Rogers

Newark, N. J., June 11 (AP)—Roy Rogers, the movie cowboy hero, will have to give his trusty trigger finger a rest today. Yesterday he made a valiant stab at shaking hands with 40,000 of his young admirers.

After a couple of hours of the ordeal, Rogers' shaking hand became so limp and exhausted that late comers had to be content with a pat on the head.

Officials of Bamberger's department store, where Rogers was making a personal appearance, said youngsters poured into the store for nearly two hours. Things got so crowded that the store shut its doors an hour and a half ahead of closing time.

But kids were still jammed in from the sixth floor on down, and it took Rogers another three hours to clean up the backlog.

ACCEPT PAY RAISE

Williamsport, Pa., June 11 (AP)—Seven-hundred union carpenters in a seven-county poll voted last night to accept a 7½ cents an hour wage increase offered by the Susquehanna Contractors Association. William Graffius, business agent for area two, Keystone district council, Carpenters, AFL, said the local voted 150-103 in favor of the boost.

Congress To Get Look At Records

Washington, June 11 (AP)—Congress will get a look at the loyalty records of key Atomic Energy Commission employees, but behind the closed doors of the Senate-House Atomic committee.

That decision, made by a 9 to 8 vote of the committee yesterday, apparently pulled out of public hearings a major portion of the "credible mismanagement" case of Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) against AEC Chairman David E. Lilienthal. Senator McMahon (D-Conn.), who made the move for closed sessions on the loyalty question, promised a report of the committee's conclusions when the inquiry ends. Hickenlooper, who didn't vote on the issue that kept the committee split for a week, called the decision "a remarkable action."

He said that he doesn't know what course he will pursue "now that they have blocked me on the security phase."

Milk Price Increase Debated By Board

Harrisburg, June 11 (AP)—The State Milk Control commission sought to withhold a penny increase in milk prices next month in seven eastern Pennsylvania areas.

Unless the commission takes formal action, retail prices in Philadelphia and the six other areas will be automatically increased a cent a quart, effective July 1, under the present seasonal pricing system.

Producer prices also would advance 40 cents a hundred pounds (46½ quarts) at the same time.

The commission wound up a series of hearings on the increase with a meeting yesterday here. "There has been practically no adverse testimony against continuing present prices," commented a commission spokesman in reviewing the hearings held on the question.

Jet Planes Collide And One Pilot Dies

Los Angeles, June 11 (AP)—Two air force F86 jet planes collided over the mountains between here and Bakersfield yesterday killing one pilot.

The pilot of the other plane, Capt. Richard E. Barr of State College, Pa., parachuted to safety. He is hospitalized with minor bruises.

Killed in the crash was Capt. William A. Higgins, 28, of Cranston, R. I.

Barr made his safe exit from the high-speed plane when he blew away his cockpit canopy, triggered the ejector seat and was catapulted 30 feet past the tail surfaces.

PINBALL BAN

York, Pa., June 11 (AP)—The city of York today placed a ban on the playing of pinball machines by children under 16. City council yesterday unanimously approved a new ordinance outlawing the gaming devices to minors. Establishments who violate the statute will be subject to $50 fine or 30 days in jail.

NEW ACTION IN CHINA'S CIVIL WAR IS LOOMING

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Both the harassed Chinese Nationalist government in Canton and the triumphant Communist leadership in the north are maneuvering energetically for position in the forthcoming fresh phase of their bloody civil war.

Diplomatic efforts directed toward the Western world are in part taking the place of gunfire during a pause in the victorious Red drive. From Nanking comes word that Communist officials there are urging recognition of the Nationalist government. Meantime the Nationalists have appealed again to Uncle Sam for aid. This bid having been made in Washington by Dr. Kan Chieh-hou, special emissary from China's acting president, L. Tsung-jen.

Ignore Red Regime
So far as concerns any withdrawal of recognition from the Nationalists, Washington has taken the position that it will not recognize any Communist regime so long as a responsible Nationalist government exists. While the military prospects of the Nationalists seem dim, this country isn't going to do anything to contribute to their collapse. The other Western powers have been playing along with America in this policy.

In the matter of the Nationalist bid for further aid, there is no sign that Washington intends to shift its policy of not giving further military help. American aid at present is limited to providing economic help out of a fund of some $54,000,000 which is handled by the Economic Cooperation Administration. This assistance is mainly for food in the sections not captured by the Reds.

May Move Capital
Dr. Kan has stated in Washington that the Nationalists have a "definite plan" for defense of territory still in their hands. He didn't say what that plan might be. However, the Nationalist government in Canton is said to be preparing to move to the old wartime capital of Chungking, leaving an army behind to defend Canton against the Reds. Meantime former President Chiang Kai-shek has organized the defense of the great island of Formosa off the east coast.

Of course the Communists aren't rushing into establishing a "government" of their own at this juncture. They aren't expected to make this move until autumn, and so meantime they aren't eligible for international recognition.

Philco Official Collapses, Dies

Philadelphia, June 11 — John Ballantyne, 49-year-old chairman of the board of directors and former president of the Philco corporation, collapsed and died yesterday as he delivered a welcoming address at graduation exercises at Meadowbrook School for Boys.

Members of his family were in the audience, including a son, John William Ballantyne, a member of the graduating class.

Ballantyne had been speaking only a few minutes when he clutched at his chest and fell to the floor. He died before medical aid could reach him.

Ballantyne graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1921 and worked as an accountant with two Philadelphia firms until joining the Philco corporation in 1934 as treasurer.

to wrist pins.—J. L. B.

A. You will find that the flywheel is loose.

Q. In spite of having had the ignition wires painted with one of the moisture preventives the engine still jerks and hesitates during the warm-up period on damp or wet days. Would you suggest a change in the carburetor mixture—different size jets?—J. MCB.

A. You will find that there is moisture from condensation on the tops of the spark plugs, the coils and the distributor cap. Wipe off these parts with a clean cloth before starting out.

Q. Should the engine pan and the muffler be undercoated? What about the propeller shaft?—W. V. B.

A. The engine pan, muffler, tail pipe and clutch housing would not be properly cooled if coated. Also don't undercoat any moving parts such as the propeller shaft. You might throw them out of balance.

Q. There's terrific chatter throughout the whole car when I back up. Motor mounts are new. The clutch doesn't grab. This car has been wrecked, but to what extent I am not certain.—B. McR.

A. In a situation like this check the alignment between engine, clutch and transmission.

Q. Why is it that so many cars, new ones as well as those several years old, have a tendency to smoke going down long grades. At 10,000 miles I do not believe the engine of my car should be pumping oil.

—S. S. G.

A. For one thing light engine oil is being used in new engines. The rule is to continue using it as long as it doesn't burn off. Light puffs of bluish white smoke from the exhaust are a tipoff to switch to the next grade heavier oil. Also remember that cars are traveling faster. That causes more suction on the oil supply when the throttle is suddenly closed.

Mr. Russell will answer questions as the United States.

Q. For some strange reason the engine of my car won't idle smoothly when it has been heated up after a spell of fast driving. I have replaced the fuel pump and re-adjusted the idling mixture.—W. W.

A. This suggests either of two things: One or two valves are inclined to stick. Or there may not be sufficient valve tappet clearance.

Build your farm financial reserves in U. S. Savings Bonds. Australia is about the same size regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern street, West Hartford 7, Connecticut, and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

Ballantyne had been speaking only a few minutes when he clutched at his chest and fell to the floor. He died before medical aid could reach him.

Ballantyne graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1921 and worked as an accountant with two Philadelphia firms until joining the Philco corporation in 1934 as treasurer.

The Nationalist government in Canton is said to be preparing to move to the old wartime capital of Chungking, leaving an army behind to defend Canton against the Reds. Meantime former President Chiang Kai-shek has organized the defense of the great island of Formosa off the east coast.

Of course the Communists aren't rushing into establishing a "government" of their own at this juncture. They aren't expected to make this move until autumn, and so meantime they aren't eligible for international recognition.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
FRIENDLY UNDERSTANDING

Just think for a moment of how much trouble could be eliminated in this world if people would only try to understand each other. It's misunderstandings that start disputes, cause hateful things to be said (that one often regrets later) and which often end in a most tragic manner.

Take inter-national affairs for example. If those seeking a solution for troublesome problems would meet as friends, and discuss all points in a friendly manner, how quickly all misunderstandings would be wiped out. And what a world we would then have!

How comforting is that one who comes to you when in trouble or sorrow and gives friendly understanding. Perhaps no words, even, are expressed—just the friendly eye or grasp of hand. What a world of meaning may be transferred by this friendly understanding!

Too many of us jump to conclusions without thinking or trying to understand the other one's viewpoint. Each of us has a right to believe in his own way, so that when a misunderstanding arises with another we should immediately put it upon a friendly basis and in considerate fashion proceed to a friendly understanding.

How few of us have learned the great value of these two words—I'm sorry? And yet they have wiped out many an unhappy misunderstanding, and brought light into many a troubled mind and heart. Consideration for the feelings of others is an art because a friendly understanding is always then the happy result.

So much of life is a compromise—a give and take. But when we try to give more than we take, we are the winner! Most misunderstandings hinge upon a very small thing. We can well afford to overlook much and play up to the more important phases of any problem in which we are concerned. The other fellow has his side, and it may be the right side! Or, our side may be the right one. By a friendly understanding both sides may bring about one right side. Give it a trial and see what a happy ending!

JUNE BRIDE
Sweet bride of June! Your wedding day,
Which once had seemed so far away,
Has come at last,
The dreaming passed,
And now there are the vows to say.

So young, so beautiful to see
In all your wedding finery,
'Tis joy and pride
To be a bride,
But there are happier days to be.

You're lovely now, but lovelier still
Will be the roles that you may fill
As time goes by
The first faint cry
You hear your baby make will thrill.

God grants you grace with added years
And softer charms when age appears,
But still above
All else are love,
A joyous home, and faith for tears.

OLD QUESTION OF COMMUNISTS IN SCHOOLS IS UP

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, June 11 (AP)—There's been a running argument for months over this question: Should a Communist party member be allowed to teach in American schools?

Those on the "yes" side, putting their emphasis on the importance of academic freedom, argue this way: A teacher should not be interfered with unless he's caught trying to twist his teaching to fit the party line.

But catching him at it, say those on the "no" side, is difficult. To do that, they say, would require spying and once spying started in a school the faculty would be paralyzed or ruined.

Prof. Hook's Analysis
They argue that once a man is a Communist party member he is no longer free to teach what he may truly think because: He is a disciplined party member and must follow the party line, no matter how it shifts or changes.

Professor Sidney Hook of New York University, one of those on the "no" side, had a long analysis of the problem last February in the New York Times magazine section.

He said teachers who want to stay in the Communist party "must believe and teach what the party line decrees." And he added: "A party line is laid down for every area of thought from art to zoology."

Another Point of View
As proof of his statement, a very interesting job, Hook quoted from the Communist official party organ of May, 1937, in part:

"Communist teachers must take advantage of their positions without exposing themselves, to give their students to the best of their ability a working class education."

Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr., author of the "Age of Jackson," reached an astonishing conclusion on May 14 in the Saturday Review of Literature when he said: No university in its "senses would knowingly hire a Communist," but once such a man was hired he shouldn't be fired for his beliefs alone unless having him around was a real danger.

20 Educators Give Opinion
Those who say a Communist should not be hired to teach received their strongest support this week from 20 educators, including General Eisenhower, president of Columbia University, and James B. Conant, president of Harvard.

In a 54-page booklet made public by the National Education Association, they said: "Members of the Communist party of the United States should not be employed as teachers." They said party members are not "free to think for themselves," and added: "It is because members of the party are required to surrender this right, as a consequence of becoming part of a movement characterized by conspiracy and calculated deceit, that they should be excluded from employment as teachers."

They said Communists "surrender intellectual integrity" and therefore are rendered "unfit to discharge the duties of a teacher in this country." The 20 educators offered no proof but plainly said their statement was their opinion.

COOL TIP FOR COTTAGERS

When planning to build or remodel a summer cottage, take a cool tip from builders who find that insulating board reduces the rate of heat flow through the wall and roof structure as well as provides an economical interior finish.

For these two reasons and because it serves as a structural material, insulating board is widely used by builders for the interior walls and ceilings of summer cottages, tourist cabins and camp buildings.

Insulating board not only slows down the entrance of heat but it lowers the surface temperature of the walls in the summer. This helps to increase the sensation of coolness. In the winter this phenomenon has the reverse effect. The walls are warmer and occupants feel warmer than they would if the walls were cold.

Application costs of insulating board are low because it comes in large sheets that can be handled and nailed easily. Where economy is the major consideration the simplest type of wall, consisting of a framework of 2-by-4-inch uprights placed 16 inches apart with insulating board sheathing on the outside, can be used. The exterior surface of the board should be covered with an exterior siding. The interior surface may be either painted, stained or left in its natural colors.

In building the more expensive type of cottage, standard frame wall construction should be followed. This consists of insulating board sheathing on the outside of the uprights, with an exterior finish of wood siding, brick veneer or stucco. Insulating board then may be used on the inside of the studs either as a decorative finish or as a base for plaster.

Further insulation is obtained when insulating board is used to build the ceiling. It may be in the form of large boards, planks or tile-boards.

SILVER-TRIMMED AUTO—Raymond L. Smith, of Harold's Club, Reno, Nev., stands beside his new station wagon, decorated with 486 silver dollars, leather trimming and steer horns.

"BALL-HEADED"—Lenny Small, of George Washington University, "loses his head" behind the ball in a scrimmage of the basketball game against Virginia in Washington.

Little Rock, Ark., June 11 (AP)—President Truman, distributed by Congressional economy bloc efforts to slash funds for European aid, decided to resort to what his associates said would be "plain talk" today to save his program.

Meanwhile, he and the boys of the 35th division whooped it up in another reunion. His address, which he said would be a "very important" foreign policy speech, was scheduled for delivery at 3:30 p. m. (Eastern Standard time).

LANDSCAPING SMALL LOT

The expense of beautifying the small house lot need not be much. It averages from 5 to 10 per cent of the cost of the house. The small house is not complete nor is the investment safeguarded until the landscape blends with it to make a picture that is pleasing and desirable.

COOL TIP FOR COTTAGERS. When planning to build or remodel a summer cottage, take a cool tip from builders who find that insulating board reduces the rate of heat flow through the wall and roof structure as well as provides an economical interior finish.

For these two reasons and because it serves as a structural material, insulating board is widely used by builders for the interior walls and ceilings of summer cottages, tourist cabins and camp buildings.

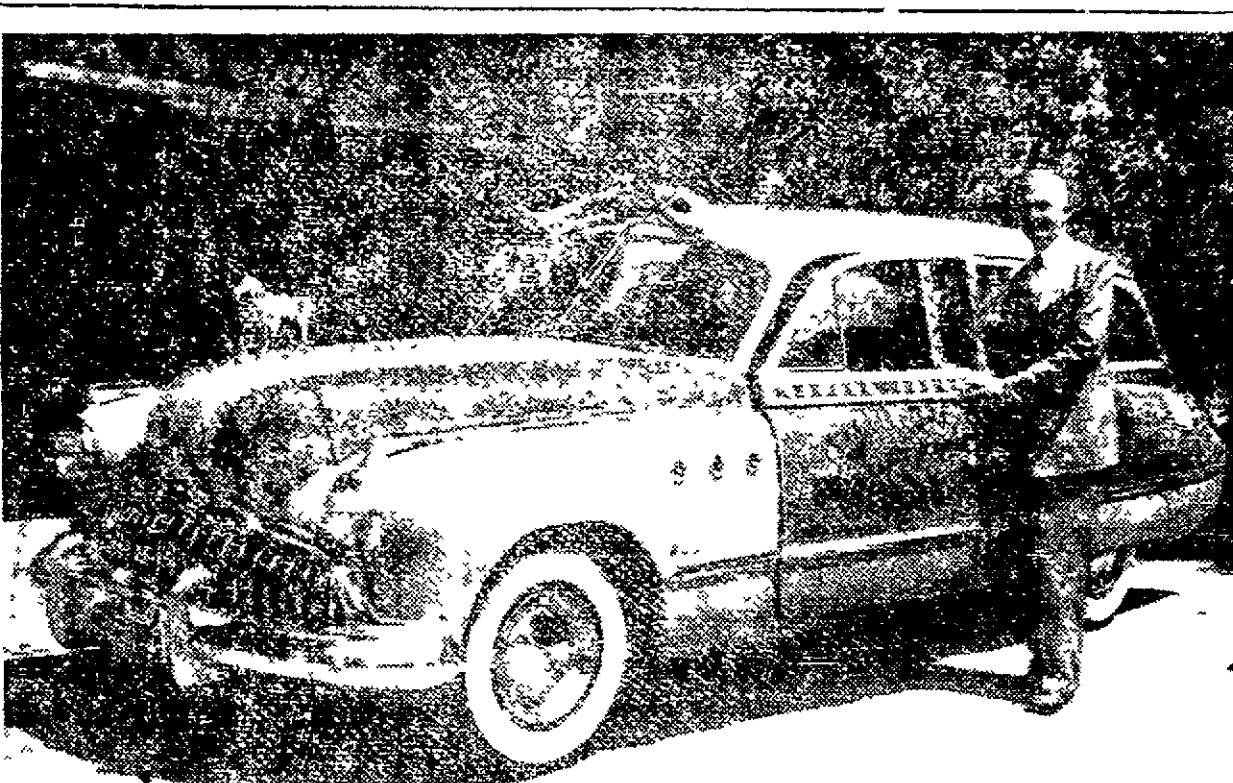

Insulating board not only slows down the entrance of heat but it lowers the surface temperature of the walls in the summer. This helps to increase the sensation of coolness. In the winter this phenomenon has the reverse effect. The walls are warmer and occupants feel warmer than they would if the walls were cold.

Application costs of insulating board are low because it comes in large sheets that can be handled and nailed easily. Where economy is the major consideration the simplest type of wall consisting of a framework of 2-by-4-inch uprights placed 16 inches apart with insulating board sheathing on the outside can be used. The exterior surface of the board should be covered with an exterior siding. The interior surface may be either painted, stained or left in its natural colors.

In building the more expensive type of cottage, standard frame wall construction should be followed. This consists of insulating board sheathing on the outside of the uprights with an exterior finish of wood siding, brick veneer or stucco. Insulating board then may be used on the inside of the studs either as a decorative finish or as a base for plaster.

Further insulation is obtained when insulating board is used to build the ceiling. It may be in the form of large boards, planks or tile-boards.

MAN NAMED IN COPLON ACTION ENDS HIS LIFE

Washington, June 11 (AP)—Police said today that one of the men mentioned in the Judith Coplon trial yesterday had committed suicide here last week.

Kent was a Russian-born former State department aide. Top-secret FBI documents read at the Coplon espionage trial yesterday said he had been in contact with Soviet secret police.

Kent was a Harvard graduate and spoke nine languages. He joined a private firm here five years ago after working for both the State and Labor departments and for the board of Economic Warfare. Detectives who investigated his

MORE OUT OF WORK

Harrisburg, June 11 (AP)—Unemployment is increasing in Pennsylvania, says the state Employment Service. The agency said 229,000 persons filed for jobless benefits last month compared with 114,000 in May, 1948. It added that the trend showed a continuous increase from 88,000 unemployed in October, 1948, to the present.

CLASS DINES HERE

Forty senior class students of Huntington township high school, Huntington Mills, Pa., dined Friday evening at Mitchell's restaurant, center square. C. Grant Brittingham is the school superintendent.

case said they were positive his death was a suicide. He had rented a boat, and several persons saw him canoeing near the Three Sisters Islands.

Two hours later his body was found. A cheap kitchen knife was found at the water's edge the next day.

The FBI data listed George Dimitrov Sotirov, a Bulgarian now employed as a clerk by the United Nations secretariat, as the agent for the Russian intelligence service Kent contacted.

The report went on to say that in an effort to contact Sotirov, Kent got in touch with Mrs. Emily Condon, wife of Dr. Edward U. Condon, director of the National Bureau of Standards. It said this was in October, 1948.

4th Death In Year

At the time of Kent's death, his wife said he was depressed over loss of his job. A company official said Kent was discharged before "we were merging our export division."

He said Kent had been checked on by the FBI on several occasions "because of his contacts with foreign embassies."

The Kent death was the fourth in a year of men who have figured in the Justice department's investigation of Soviet espionage in this country.

SENATORS CALL FOR BIG CUTS IN ERP FUNDS

By DON WHITEHEAD
Washington, June 11 (AP)—Senators called today for cuts of up to $780,000,000 in the European Recovery program.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told reporters the Economic Cooperation Administration can stand a 10 per cent cut in the $3,568,470,000 fund voted by the House. He said he will back such a cut.

But Senator McCarran (D-Nev.), a member of the Senate Appropriations committee, said he will urge a 10 per cent cut.

McCarran said he is basing his recommendation on a study made by the staff of the Senate House "Watchdogs" committee. This group was set up to keep a check on ECA spending.

Clash With McKellar
The committee has authorized McCarran to use this material, but not as a committee recommendation. "There are some places in the program," McCarran said, "where we can make a direct cut. The rest of it should be done by the ECA administrator."

McCarran said ECA Chief Paul Hoffman has "done as good a job as any one man could do."

"But the project is too big," he added, "and in many places it has gotten away from him."

Chairman McKellar (D-Tenn.) of the Appropriations committee angrily told Hoffman yesterday that his resignation "would be a very good thing."

"I Hope You Do"

Senator George (D-Ga.) told a reporter there is no "disposition in the Senate to cripple ECA." But he said he favors making the program spread the $3,568,470,000 over 12 months instead of the 10 months allowed by the House.

Hoffman has said he will not return and ask for more money. He said he will try to do the job with whatever money he gets even if the program "goes to pot."

But he added he will step out as administrator if he believes he cannot do the job with the money furnished by Congress. It was that statement by Hoffman which led to McKellar's bitter comment: "I hope you do resign."

Robber Asks For Psychiatric Check

Binghamton, N. Y., June 11 (AP)—A psychiatric examination will be given Guy E. Vandemark, 27, of South Montrose, Pa. accused of armed robbery.

Vandemark asked for the examination and a preliminary hearing last night when he was arraigned before Justice of the Peace William Truckenmiller. Truckenmiller said the Pennsylvania man will be examined by a psychiatrist within a few days.

Vandemark is accused of breaking into the grocery store-home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Potter at Corbettville, N. Y., last December 17. He was arrested May 7 in Montrose and was brought here after he waived extradition.

Broome County Sheriff Arlington B. Thatcher said Vandemark shot Potter in the stomach when Potter came to the store to stoke the furnace and shot Mrs. Potter in the head. Both recovered from their wounds.

40,000 Admirers Wear Out Rogers

Newark, N. J., June 11 (AP)—Roy Rogers, the movie cowboy hero, will have to give his trusty trigger finger a rest today. Yesterday he made a valiant stab at shaking hands with 40,000 of his young admirers.

After a couple of hours of the ordeal, Rogers' shaking hand became so limp and exhausted that late comers had to be content with a pat on the head.

Officials of Bamberger's department store, where Rogers was making a personal appearance, said youngsters poured into the store for nearly two hours. Things got so crowded that the store shut its doors an hour and a half ahead of closing time.

But kids were still jammed in from the sixth floor on down, and it took Rogers another three hours to clean up the backlog.

ACCEPT PAY RAISE

Williamsport, Pa. June 11 (AP)—Seven-union carpenters in a seven-county unit voted last night to accept a 7.1 per cent pay raise.

The raise was offered by the Susquehanna Contractors Association. William Graffius, business agent for area two Keystone district council carpenters, AFL, said the local vote was 150-103 in favor of the raise.

Congress To Get Look At Records

Washington, June 11 (AP)—Congress will get a look at the loyalty records of key Atomic Energy Commission employees, but behind the closed doors of the Senate-House Atomic committee.

That decision, made by a 9 to 8 vote of the committee yesterday, apparently pulled out of public hearings a major portion of the "credible mismanagement" case of Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) against AEC Chairman David E. Lilienthal. Senator McMahon (D-Conn.), who made the move for closed sessions on the loyalty question, promised a report of the committee's conclusions when the inquiry ends. Hickenlooper, who didn't vote on the issue that kept the committee split for a week, called the decision "a remarkable action."

He said that he doesn't know what course he will pursue "now that they have blocked me on the security phase."

Milk Price Increase Debated By Board

Harrisburg, June 11 (AP)—The State Milk Control commission sought to withhold a penny increase in milk prices next month in seven eastern Pennsylvania areas.

Unless the commission takes formal action retail prices in Philadelphia and the six other areas will be automatically increased a cent a quart, effective July 1, under the present seasonal pricing system.

Producer prices also would advance 40 cents a hundred pounds (46 1/2 quarts) at the same time.

The commission wound up a series of hearings on the increase with a meeting yesterday here. "There has been practically no adverse testimony against continuing present prices," commented a commission spokesman in reviewing the hearings held on the question.

Jet Planes Collide And One Pilot Dies

Los Angeles, June 11 (AP)—Two air force F86 jet planes collided over the mountains between here and Bakersfield yesterday killing one pilot.

The pilot of the other plane, Capt. Richard E. Barr of State College, Pa., parachuted to safety. He is hospitalized with minor bruises.

Killed in the crash was Capt. William A. Higgins, 28, of Cranston, R. I.

Barr made his safe exit from the high-speed plane when he blew away his cockpit canopy, triggered the ejector seat and was catapulted 30 feet past the tail surfaces.

PINBALL BAN

York, Pa., June 11 (AP)—The city of York today placed a ban on the playing of pinball machines by children under 16. City council yesterday unanimously approved a new ordinance outlawing the gaming devices to minors. Establishments who violate the statute will be subject to $50 fine or 30 days in jail.

NEW ACTION IN CHINA'S CIVIL WAR IS LOOMING

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)
Both the harassed Chinese Nationalist government in Canton and the triumphant Communist leadership in the north are maneuvering energetically for position in the forthcoming fresh phase of their bloody civil war.

Diplomatic efforts directed toward the Western world are in part taking the place of gunfire during a pause in the victorious Red drive. From Nanking comes word that Communist officials there are urging Western powers to withdraw recognition of the Nationalist government. Meantime the Nationalists have appealed again to Uncle Sam for aid. This bid having been made in Washington by Dr. Kan Chieh-hou, special emissary from China's acting president, L. Tsung-jen.

Ignore Red Regime
So far as concerns any withdrawal of recognition from the Nationalists, Washington has taken the position that it will not recognize any Communist regime so long as a responsible Nationalist government exists. While the military prospects of the Nationalists seem dim, this country isn't going to do anything to contribute to their collapse. The other Western powers have been playing along with America in this policy.

In the matter of the Nationalist bid for further aid, there is no sign that Washington intends to shift its policy of not giving further military help. American aid at present is limited to providing economic help out of a fund of some $54,000,000 which is handled by the Economic Cooperation Administration. This assistance is mainly for food in the sections not captured by the Reds.

May Move Capital
Dr. Kan has stated in Washington that the Nationalists have a "definite plan" for defense of territory still in their hands. He didn't say what that plan might be. However, the Nationalist government in Canton is said to be preparing to move to the old wartime capital of Chungking, leaving an army behind to defend Canton against the Reds.

Meantime former President Chiang Kai-shek has organized the defense of the great island of Formosa off the east coast.

Of course the Communists aren't rushing into establishing a "government" of their own at this juncture. They aren't expected to make this move until autumn, and so meantime they aren't eligible for international recognition.

Philco Official Collapses, Dies

Philadelphia, June 11 — John Ballantyne, 49-year-old chairman of the board of directors and former president of the Philco corporation, collapsed and died yesterday as he delivered a welcoming address at graduation exercises at Meadowbrook School for Boys.

Members of his family were in the audience, including a son, John William Ballantyne, a member of the graduating class.

Ballantyne had been speaking only a few minutes when he clutched at his chest and fell to the floor. He died before medical aid could reach him.

Ballantyne graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1921 and worked as an accountant with two Philadelphia firms until joining the Philco corporation in 1934 as treasurer.

A. You will find that the flywheel is loose.

Q. In spite of having had the ignition wires painted with one of the moisture preventives the engine still jerks and hesitates during the warm-up period on damp or wet days. Would you suggest a change in the carburetor mixture—different size jets?—J. MCB.

A. You will find that there is moisture from condensation on the tops of the spark plugs, the coils and the distributor cap. Wipe off these parts with a clean cloth before starting out.

Q. Should the engine pan and the muffler be undercoated? What about the propeller shaft?—W. V. B.

A. The engine pan, muffler, tail pipe and clutch housing would not be properly cooled if coated. Also don't undercoat any moving parts such as the propeller shaft. You might throw them out of balance.

Q. There's terrific chatter throughout the whole car when I back up. Motor mounts are new. The clutch doesn't grab. This car has been wiecked, but to what extent I am not certain.—B. McR.

A. In a situation like this check the alignment between engine, clutch and transmission.

Q. Why is it that so many cars, new ones as well as those several years old, have a tendency to smoke going down long grades. At 10,000 miles I do not believe the engine of my car should be pumping oil.

—S. S. G.

A. For one thing light engine oil is being used in new engines. The rule is to continue using it as long as it doesn't burn off. Light oils of bluish white smoke from the exhaust are a tipoff to switch to the next grade heavier oil. Also remember that cars are traveling faster. That causes more suction on the oil supply when the throttle is suddenly closed.
